Lack of an agreement may cost Glades General ambulance service

By ELKE SCHWARZ

BELLE GLADE Due to an unrenowned agreement between Glades General Hospital and Atlantic Palm Beach Ambulance Service, the hospital's paramedic service may be terminated.

The prior annual agreement, which ended this past October 31, included combining the hospital's paramedics with the usage of the APB ambulance in the proper zones and the provision of Basic Life Support (BLS), which is subsidized by the county.

According to Pat Lennon, Glades General Administrator, the hospital was providing Advanced Life Support (ALS), but wasn't compensated for it.

"We just wanted to get some of the cost back," said Lennon.

During the past week, the APB ambulance service from Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee and the Belle Glade Fire Rescue have been responding to calls within the Belle Glade zone.

An emergency meeting between the county and the two hospitals was called on Monday, November 4, to reach an agreement about the ambulance problem to service the community until the zone comes up for rebuilding in 1986.

Vince Bonvento, assistant county administrator, led the discussion, a situation he determined as "crucial, due to the location of the Glades area to be provided advanced life support."

It was decided that during the 30 day interim period before the next Glades General Board of Trustees meeting, Everglades Memorial paramedics, along with APB ambulance service, will continue to cover the Belle Glade area, transporting those patients to Glades General Hospital.

Paul Mielli, director of County Emergency Medical Service, said that Everglades Memorial and APB may continue to provide assistance for the next year.

"They're looking for a long-term agreement," said Mielli. "APB and Everglades will sit down and look at the nitty gritty."

Everglades Administrator Don Anderson, feels that stepping in and helping is no major problem.

"Advanced Life support is necessary and we'll certainly help on a temporary basis," said Anderson. "I don't see why we can't work something out on a permanent basis. We'll just need some extra help."

Lennon sees the situation in a positive light.

"I think it's very generous of Everglades Memorial to help out," he said. "Glades General Hospital will be saving about $250,000 a year. This can reduce charges and hospital costs."

Agriculture sets record

THE GLADES-The Palm Beach County agricultural industry set a record for the 1984-1985 season.

Even though South Florida suffered through a freeze early in the year, the total value of Palm Beach County's agricultural production reached $874,438,456, approximately $118,000 over the 1980-81 record.

According to a news release from the Florida Cooperative Extension Service, the freeze of January 1985 saw a reduction in vegetable income from $226 million in 1984-85 to a low of $177 million or $49 million less than last year, a 22 percent reduction.

The complete dollar value of the Glades area vegetables totaled:

Loss of jury district will strap cities

By ERIC KOPP

BELLE GLADE-Local attorney's and city officials are beginning to make citizens of Belle Glade, Pahokee, and South Bay aware of the consequences if the Glades jury district is taken away so that Boca Raton and Del Ray Beach may have their own.

In a luncheon meeting Tuesday, Mamie Washington, an attorney in Belle Glade, told city and law enforcement officials of plans that are underway to make circuit court judges on the coast who make up the steering committee, see the economic impact such a move would have on the Glades.

"We are beginning to circulate petitions, and plan to erect bill boards throughout the cities. I would like to see us get at least 5,000 signatures on the petitions," she said.

Washington said the Glades jury district was originally formed as a convenience to citizens of the Glades, to save the long drive to "West Palm Beach."

"Now, because of the south county wanting their own district, they want to take that away from us," added Washington.

Even though she is a defense attorney, she said defense attorney's would have a field day if the district was taken away.

She said everyone knows how hard it is to

Marina to undergo $125,000 face lift

BELLE GLADE-Members of the Belle Glade City Commission met at the Belle Glade marina Monday night, November 4, to view the areas earmarked for further improvements.

The master plan includes building a center for fishing tournaments, a primitive camping area and more picnic shelters.

City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang said the cost of the improvements would run about $125,000.

Of that amount, more than $60,000 will be used to raise the old pavilion on the rim canal and build small picnic shelters and washrooms. The surrounding area will be landscaped.

The center for the fishing tournaments will be constructed near the boat docks adjacent to the marina's main office. In addition, there will be a large toteboard, bleachers, tables, a shelter, weigh-in scales, and a tank for anglers to display their catches. The estimated cost is over $11,000.

It will also cost about $40,000 to establish the primitive camping area, Strang said. The camping area will be built on the dike at the south end of the campgrounds. He also mentioned that a portion of the dike would be cleared to build restrooms, showers, barbecue grills, a dump station and tent sites.

Plans also call for erecting a security gate at the entrance to the campgrounds, as well as 20 picnic tables and two dump stations.

During the October 28 commission meeting, the city decided not to build a footbridge between the old campgrounds along the rim canal and the peninsula with the old pavilion.

Marina Director Mike Underwood said the bridge would mean security problems for the campgrounds.

The commission also rejected the plans to rebuild the boat ramp adjacent to Slim's Fishcamp last week. Underwood said area campers might be awakened by people using the ramp in the early morning.

Belle Glade Mayor Tom Altman had said he would prefer ramps be built where the city already has boat ramps. He also added the planned developments should make Torrey Island one of the best campgrounds in the state.

Man relaxes by building dollhouses

By ELKE SCHWARZ
BELLE GLADE Even though it takes each shingle on a roof, people turn their hobbies into full-time work, such as tending a garden or rebuilding cars.

Vernon Dexter, former owner of Glades Gas Company, builds dollhouses.

"My grandkids got me involved in this," the very minute said Dexter, who cranks out three or four of the lifelike dollhouses per year.

Dexter's dollhouses can be made together the pieces of an old-fashioned kits or from scratch. miniature coffee grinder, right down to the intricate wiring for said Dexter. "But after electricity, each house you get a kit, you can make it a work of art, adapt it any way you want to."

VOLUNTEER FIREMAN JACK SCOTT lends a helping hand to a rookie at the annual Fire Department Turkey Shoot held this past weekend.

The temperature dropped this week and thermostats went up in the Glades. Even with just a slight chill in the air, it seems everyone is anxious for winter to arrive.

Students at GDS are donning sweaters, jackets and sweatshirts they have probably been dying to wear since the beginning of school. Even though our cold weather can't compare to that up north, that little hint of coolness reminds more than one of us that Christmas is only 48 days away. For all of you who want that extra something special, it's time to start dropping a few "subtle" hints to Mom and Dad.

Gator Gab

Christy Hadsbeth

Our Gator boys came out on top last Friday by defeating arch rival Benjamin 29-13. Way to go, guys! Y'all showed everyone what as far as the Gators are concerned, the BUCS STOP HERE!

The junior varsity finished their season in style by beating Benjamin 20-14 last Thursday night. They won their last four games in a row to end up 4-3 for the year. We're proud of these Gators!

The girls volleyball team also ended their regular season play. Their last game was a thrilling, three-set victory over Moore Haven. Seeded third in the district tournament, they go to Benjamin today for a 2:00 match against the Christian Day School. Come on, gals, show the Crusaders what team really dominates in the

A powder puff football game between the senior and junior girls will kick off Glades Day's homecoming next week. The game will be at 7 Monday night. The homecoming theme was announced last week at the bonfire and now classes are busy figuring how to use "Gator History in the Making" on their floats and in the skits. Of course, everyone is determined that their class will win, so there should be some late nights next week!

Finally, our mighty Gators go up against the Frostproof Bulldogs tomorrow night at 8:00 Glades Day's field. Come on, Gators, we want this victory!

The C.D.S. held their annual Fall Festival this past Thursday.

There was a lot of good food and a lot of money made for P.T.A. Congratulations to the Junior Class for their hard work and excellent job on the Spook House!

The C.D.S. Volleyball team is playing Glades Day in the first round of the District Tournament on Thursday. The tournament takes place at the Benjamin School. Good luck Lady Crusaders.

C.D.S. football teams didn't have such a good week. The varsity lost a heartbreaker to Kings Academy in the closing minutes, 18-14. Our J.V. team made a brave showing, playing only with eleven players, but lost to Moore Haven 34-6. We are still very proud of them.

Mercury Morris was in Belle Glade on Monday and Tuesday. He spoke at C.D.S. on Monday afternoon and also at the P.C.A. meeting Monday night. He also spoke at Glades Day and Glades Central on Tuesday.

Report cards are coming out this week, so there will be some edgy C.D.S. students, if you study, the report card can be your buddy.

This is Lori Baker, Mirah Corbin, Jesus Mezquita, and David Chambliss leaving you with these things to ponder on.

Editorial

PAHOKEE OBSERVATION

By Eric Kopp

Rock & roll needs to be turned down, censoring futile

A few weeks ago an editorial ran in our newspaper about censoring rock and roll. Folks are claiming the lyrics are too explicit. Explicit about what?

I don't know about you, but I can't understand a word they're saying in the first place, and I don't think anyone else does either.

I've yet too figure out the lyrics to many of the songs today. I guess that gives away my age, huh?

My son plugs tapes into his stereo by Quiet Riot, (a most applicable name), Ozzy Osborne, and who can remember all the names. My point is I can't get past the noise let alone hear the lyrics.

This kid has a stereo set up that takes up half the living room with speakers six foot tall. When he listens to his "music" the walls of my trailer billow out like a balloon.

One morning I hauled my carcass out of bed to face the day and changed his stereo over to my favorite country station for a little Haggard and Jones music.

Did I make a boo-boo? I didn't bother to check the decibel level when I turned the thing on. When it came on the force blew me slam up against the opposite wall.

I couldn't hear all day not to mention the damage done to my back when I crasheu into the wall.

Another time that darned thing caused me bodily harm happened at the worst time. Early in the morning while I was sound asleep.

You see, my room is at the back of the trailer and his stereo is at the front of the home. Anyway he flipped that thing on and the vibrations shook me out of bed.

I hit my head on the night stand, bruised my knee on the wall, and left a permanent impression of an ash tray on my derriere.

"What in the world are you doing, trying to wake you're aunt in Georgia?" I scream over the din.

But due to the decibel level of the noise, he was impervious to my shouts. This left me no recourse But to pull the plug on that son-of-a-juke box.

"Hey, what's going on," he shouts, "that was my favorite song you turkey!"

"Your favorite song? How could you tell? All I could hear were the walls cracking and glasses shattering," I said as I began to recover my hearing.

"Are you saying it was too loud," he asks indignantly.

"Too loud, what gives you that impression? If they had made that much noise in Vietnam those who returned would have been stone deaf," I retort.

"You're crazy," he says as he reaches to turn the noise maker back on.

"Touch that knob and I'll break your fingers," I growl menacingly.

He studies me for a second, and decides I'm serious so he stomps off to his room.

I settle down with my lead tea to prepare myself to face another day when it dawns on me.

He's got another radio in his bedroom! I spring from the couch and sprint toward his room, but I'm too late.

Just as I open his door the force hits me square in the face. Or should I say ears.

"No, no, no. Please, can't we have a nice quiet morning?" I cry pleadingly.

"Don't tell me this is too loud. I don't have it turned up near full volume. Listen!" He twists the volume knob to wide open.

My eyes cross, my hair stands on end, and my ear drums burst. I am reduced to a blubbling cloud of jelly.

Since then we have reached a compromise. I don't play Bocephus on his stereo, and he ceases the noise down to a point four on the Richter scale.

So, you see, I don't understand why the hassle over censorship. When the stuff is played that loud, which is the only way teenagers play it, they can't understand a word of it anyhow.

Instead of censorship I would rather the government make it mandatory that all stereo's be built with something like a governor on them. Then the volume could only go so high thus allowing parents to keep their hearing in tact.

Will the trials and tribulations of being a parent ever cease?

I doubt it. I just hope they continue to manufacture ear plugs.

Airboater believes self-governing is better

Dear Editor:

There are many voices to be heard on the subject of airboats being used on public property.

After four years of living in north Florida where people generally still respect one another's rights and privileges, I have returned to south Florida where people generally do not share these same sentiments.

Airboats, being a new concept of mobility, will understandably take some time getting used to. That is if your interests to not lie near them. However, some of us are not looking for the tearing eyes and thrill of speeding a 3 1/2 lb. bass back to weight in at 80 mph and poor catch respectively.

In my opinion the airboater can have these things providing he puts his foot to the loor and fishing aint so good also.

What we're looking

is a new territory: virgin, quiet, solitude. To be left alone and to leave others likewise.

We are taxpayers just like you and we expect equal treatment under the slw.

All bass boosters are not: 1) chronic trouble-makers, 2) conspicuously noisy, 3) heavy drinkers that nearly fall off their boats. The same holds true of airboatists. It is a fact that the law of averages that exists in society comes over into every phase of boating. Trouble makers are another. It is up to us collectively to do the right thing.

This of course involves turning in the lawbreakers. That's right! Stand up for your drinking water untouch snoring at each other with contempt.

My numbers are FL3735BF. If you see me, break the law or solve these problems myself, turn me in, and I will pay you the same gesture in return. Self governing is far better than becoming a police state, don't you agree.

After all you may be next to feel the heat, the million or so voters in south Florida might prefer to have their drinking water untouch snoring at each other with contempt. So I challenge you to stick together and solve these problems

A hold was put on the Holey lease. A preliminary report opposing the lease stated the Holey Land was needed as a water holding area to keep the regional and insecticide-loaded water flowing into Lake Okechobee.

The city of South Bay hired Lomax Harrelle as Public Works Director for the city.

Blue Devils 'lay the wood' to sixth ranked Immokalee win 19-0

By ERIC KOPP
PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Blue Devils have put themselves right into the district championship hunt, as they defeated the Immokalee Indians 19-0.

"We played a fantastic game. We just laid the wood to 'em and shut them down," said head coach Don Thompson.

Thompson said there were two keys to Pahokee's victory Friday night.

"I'd say the 6 turnovers, which were caused by hard hitting, and the new personnel we had made the difference for us," he said.

Quarterback Pernell McKelton, playing his first game of the season, threw touchdown passes of 40 and 50 yards, and scored one rushing touchdown from 5 yards out. "Pernell makes things happen. He's quick and an exceptional quarterback," said Thompson.

Running back Alphonso Smith rushed for 100 yards and fullback Tyrone Hickman rambled for 70 yards as the Blue Devils totaled 300 yards in offense against the sixth ranked Indians.

Wide receivers Reggie Mickens and Walter Britt each caught a McKelton pass for a touchdown.

The win throws the Blue Devils into a three way tie with Bishop Verot and Immokalee for the top spot in the district.

Thompson said he would be notified some time this week as to the site and what type of playoff method will be used to determine the district champion.

Pernell McKelton was named as the game's Most Valuable Player by the Pahokee coaching staff.

Wide receivers Reggie Mickens and Walter Britt received plaudits as the game's outstanding offensive players.

Outstanding offensive lineman of the game was Lyndon McKay.

Defensively, Tyrone Hickman was chosen as the defensive back of the game and was credited with one interception.

Defensive lineman of the game awards went to defensive ends Curtis Smith and Tyrone Campbell.

The Unsung Hero award went to running back Alphonso Smith.

"This is going to be a super tough game. They have a full back, a fast halfback, and are big along the line on both sides of the ball," said Thompson of this week's opponent Cardinal Newman.

Thompson said Cardinal Newman is primarily a running team and will run from the power I formation.

When they pass he said they will slip into the I Pro-Set formation.

Thompson said his team will be pretty basic as they will try to adjust to the Cardinal Newman formation and try to out hustle and out hit them.

Fishing on Okeechobee with Tennessee

Fishing is starting to get better every day out on the lake. And with the cool weather we have for a few days, I expect the fishing to be great.

Vernon McCoy of Pahokee has been searching this lake for a wall hanger for years and last weekend he finally scored by bringing in a 9 lb. 12 oz. bass on wild shiners.

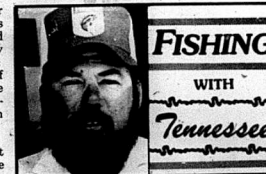

Ken Bowermeister took Mel Adams and Forest Smith of Lantana out and brought in 10 fish weighing between 2 pounds and 8½ pounds, all caught on wild shiners.

My guide party Saturday with Clarence Martin and his son from Wellington came in with a real nice stringer. And my trip Tuesday with Dave Wabick and Jim Shryer from Chicago were real happy with their 18 fish that went up to four pounds. All of our fish were caught on Gambler worms. This was the second trip in two weeks with these guys and after catching some rather large ones on shiners last week, they decided to come back and try their luck with worms. Charlie Blackwell of Nashville Marina came in this week with a double limit call caught on rattle traps.

Rumor has it that Joyce and Gene Dodgen along with Sam and Polly Williams have really been catching fish, but they don't want anyone to know exactly where. Watch out! I'm watching you!

FISHING WITH Tennessee
Slims Tournament last Sunday was a good weight was 30 lb. 7 oz. and the biggest fish weighed in at 5 lb. 9 oz. Pablo Sanchez and Joe Cerico won the Harold Peacock tournament and the second place with 30 big fish prize. Total lbs. 4 oz.

My boating tip for the week is to be sure and grease and tighten the steering cable on your boat. This cooler weather causes it to contract and can be a serious problem. This should be checked on a regular basis. Until next week, safe boating and good luck fishing.

performances. I'm sure the performing chorus appreciates the tremendous help Dr. Greer has provided.

Tragic Ends As the second nine weeks begins, the Glades Central family can look back on the first nine weeks of school and see much personal loss.

Yet still we have felt strength to keep us going when life hasn't gone as planned. We have witnessed the untimely death of our chorus teacher, Eugene Mildon. But, perhaps, the most shocking and painful loss occurred when one of our students, Patrick McGeehe, died last week.

Students who knew Patrick could tell you what a super human being he was, and how sad it is he is no longer with us.

We are all saddened by this tragic end to a young man's life.

Cold weather a danger to your pet

Each winter, thousands of cats and dogs suffer and shiver in the painfully cold weather because thoughtless pet owners won't bring them inside their homes.

If you see an animal neglected this way, call the nearest humane society or animal-control department for help.

Keeping warm saps energy, so dogs that spend time outdoors during winter may need additional food.

Warm engines of parked cars attract cats so bang on the hood to scare them away before starting the engine.

Another point to remember is that antifreeze is deadly but tastes sweet to animals, so wipe up spills, and wipe off pet's feet to avoid burns from chemicals that melt ice or snow.

Winter is perfect for outdoor frolicking and indoor snuggling with a cat or dog. "Help us help all pets to have a happy, healthy winter."

These thoughts were provided by the Humane Society of the United States.

In agreement with these feelings is Palm Beach County Ordinance §24, Section III of Keeping and Treating Animals Generally.

This ordinance states a person must provide, among other things, a shelter from the weather for their animal. Any type of shelter is sufficient as long as it protects the animal from the elements.

A shade tree would not be acceptable because it does not protect the animal from the rain.

Animals living in Florida are not accustomed to very low temperatures such as an animal living in the north.

Listen to the weather forecast, if you hear the temperature is going to drop substantially, prepare your animal.

A dog can withstand cold but not a draft. Perhaps an old blanket in the dog house for your furry friend would be wise.

Your cat will look for a warm place, so remember when you go to start your car in the morning, bang on the hood in case he may be sleeping by the engine. Birds are especially susceptible to cold drafts and don't forget the goldfish out in the pond.

Horses and other livestock will instinctively turn their backs to the wind, however, make shift wind breaks can be made by stacking bales of hay, and in very severe weather they can be blanketed.

One of the best preventative measures for avoiding sickness during winter months is to make sure your pet is up to date on all its inoculations.

Check with your private veterinarian and have a very merry Holiday Season.

Presented in cooperation with Glades Newspapers, Inc., and the Palm Beach Department of Animal Regulation.

Veteran's Day...

Let us reaffirm our devotion to the ideals for which they fought and died from Bunker Hill to Normandy, from Saigon to Beirut.

Man stable after roadside stabbing

BELLE GLADE — Jose Pena, also known as, Lucio Estrada, is in stable condition after allegedly being stabbed repeatedly, then left on the side of the road at Dead Man's Curve on Highway 441, south of Pahokee.

Detective Cliff Simonds, Palm Beach Sheriff's Department, said Francisco Bustos, 23, was arrested on charges of attempted second degree murder in last Saturday's incident.

Simonds said Salvador Hernandez, 27, Francisco Casa, 25, and Jesus Bustos, 25, were arrested on charges of being accessories after the fact.

The five men list the A. Duda and Sons Camp at six-mile bend as their home address.

According to sheriff department reports, Sgt. Albert Harper was summoned to Dead Man's Curve at 11:15 Saturday night by a motorist who said a man that was all bloody was along side the road trying to wave people down.

Simonds said the man had received numerous stab wounds from a five-inch lock-blade pocketknife in the throat, side, shoulder, and abdomen.

The man was taken to Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee where he underwent surgery and is currently listed in stable condition.

The detective said he has received conflicting testimony as to the cause of the argument, but does know it took place while the five men were riding in the same vehicle.

Simonds said Francisco Bustos was placed in the county jail under a $10,000 bond after being brought back to Belle Glade from Indiantown, where he apparently fled following the incident.

The other three men were booked into the jail on bonds of $3,000 each, then later released on their own recognizance.

Man dies after suffering injuries in bleacher fall

BELLE GLADE — A 31 year old Belle Glade man who fell from the bleachers at a local football game, has died as the result of blood clots which developed from the fall.

According to Dr. John V. Marraccini of the Medical Examiners Office, Willie Frank Clayton died October 21 from injuries received when he fell from the top bleachers at Glades Central Stadium on October 18.

Marraccini said the official cause of death was listed as Saddle Thromboembolus due to blunt Lumbar Vertebral Trauma.

William Miller, investigator with the Medical Examiners Office, said Clayton died from blood clots which developed from the fall. "The clots moved from his back toward his lungs, blocking both pulmonary arteries so they could no longer carry the blood," said Miller.

"We (defense attorneys) would win a lot more cases because of witnesses and victims not showing up for court. Police would get very few convictions."

"You're going to see more selective arrests, because of the expense to police departments and the failure to have witnesses appear for court. Police will begin to look away and let a lot of things go," she said.

"If the Glades district is lost only traffic and juvenile cases would be heard locally."

This would mean all felonies, misdemeanors, civil, and small claims cases would be heard on the coast.

Costs to cities and police departments would be astronomical.

According to Lieutenant Lynn Lowery, Belle Glade Police Department, figures have been compiled showing where such a move could cost the department $415,038.24 per year.

"And this figure does not reflect witness fees or money paid to jurors. Nor has it been figured in if we have to become a taxi service and take witnesses or victims to the coast just to be sure they show up," he said.

Chief Mike Miller figures show it takes on the average of five officers to work and testify in one felony case.

It would require eight hours in court and three hours travel time to and from court, which represents a total of $5 man hours per case for all five officers.

Salaries for the five officers, figured at time and half overtime, is $557.76.

Lieutenant William Bullock said each officer would spend a total of three hours travelling which would cost the department a total of $209.16.

Bullock added it would take two vehicles to transport the five officers, and at a cost of 20 cents per mile, the 90 mile round trip would cost $36.

Chief Roy L. Humston of the South Bay Police Department said such a move would cost his department approximately $15,070.96, which is approximately 5 percent of the South Bay Police Department's budget.

(It should be mentioned here these total figures are for felony case only, and do not reflect the cost of misdemeanor, civil or small claims cases.)

Besides the obvious economic impact, these people aren't thinking about the lack of man power if we lose the jury district," said Humston.

Humston said he presently has seven full time officers, and a situation could arise where he would have no officers on the streets because of them being in West Palm Beach for court.

"If I would have two or three officers on a case, then one on vacation or out sick, it would be very likely we would have no officers to patrol the city."

"Both Pahokee and South Bay are in that same situation, and it wouldn't take very long for criminals to realize the situation. So what's going to happen is that we will be forced to ignore a lot of the things that we are presently making arrests on now," he said.

Humston said his department's clearance rate (cases cleared by arrest) has gone up from 17.8 percent in 1984 to 34.6 percent in 1985.

He said citizens would see a drastic drop in the clearance rate if his officer are forced to go to West Palm Beach for court because the city could not afford to make the simple battery, or theft cases.

The chief said his totals are based on a nine month period from January 1 to October 1.

He added one more frightening thought. After 1986 there will be no more federal revenue sharing programs, which will force the city and taxpayers to shoulder the extra costs.

Another point to be considered is the loss of work to witnesses and victims and how much time would their employers allow them to take off.

"Folks out here already feed people on the coast are trying to take everything from them, and this jury districting thing will just make them believe that more is better."

Currently one defense attorney, Nelson Bailey, has petitions in front of the Supreme Court stating the Glades jury district is unconstitutional because Judge Don Adams is not a circuit judge.

He maintains that because Adams is not an elected circuit judge, he cannot hear cases he currently presides over.

Bailey also contends the Glades jury district is unconstitutional because jurors are only drawn from a pool of Glades area residents instead of the entire county as prescribed by state statutes.

"The Glades area is unique, and the constitution says you have the right to a trial by a jury of your peers. I believe Glades area residents have a right for their cases to be heard by other residents of the Glades," said Washington.

Washington said one of the best ways to save the jury district is to sign the petitions, and show the steering committee on the coast how strongly Glades residents feel about the situation.

Petitions will be placed in the local police departments and city halls.

eight houses, mostly to be given away as donations for clubs to use as a money-making project, such as raffles.

Last year, said Dexter, he made a miniature version of the famed Southfork house, from the television series "Dallas."

The house was given to his grandchildren's school in St. Petersburg and used as a money-maker for the school.

But like many hobbies, expenses have a tendency to delve deep into the pocketbook.

"It costs about $100-$500 to make a house from the base kit," Dexter said. "It's the furnishings which kills you. The light fixtures can run you $35 apiece. By the time you count the additional time and labor, the house could be worth $1000-$2000."

He builds mostly two-story Victorian through generations and ranch type dollhouses and gets many of his decorating ideas from model shows.

"You can use your imagination when decorating. Many people revert to their childhood and decorate it to capture a certain memory," said Dexter.

"My grandchildren decorate with the change of holidays and seasons."

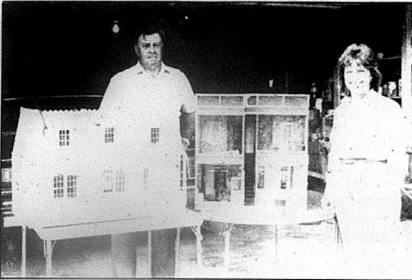

When thinking of a dollhouse, visions of small children playing peacefully with dolls nearby usually follow.

But Dexter said this type of dollhouse is mainly for the child in the adult.

"Depending on the dexterity of a child, they can play with the house, but it's mainly an adult type house considering the cost," he said.

"The dollhouse won't break with a modicum of care," said Dexter.

"It's a toy which tells a story through generations and can come an heirloom."

BELLE GLADE--The Belle Glade Fire Department approximates $2000 was raised at their annual Turkey Shoot held this past Friday and Saturday, November 1 and 2.

Drawings were also held at the shoot. Pat Lee won a 12 gauge Winchester shotgun. Joe Taylor won a small television and nine year old Richard Esquerdo won a 22 rifle.

Proceeds will go toward renewing some of the fire station's equipment.

$92,353,488 for the '84-'85 year. The vegetable dollar value for the coastal area totaled $85,071,383.

Despite the freeze, sugarcane production increased in value by $31 million, or 7 percent over the 1983-84 season.

The total value of the 1984-85 sugarcane harvest was $460,794,684, a summation of the $440,307,876 of sugar and $20,486,808 of molasses produced.

A total of 305,167 acres of sugarcane was harvested; 10,844,686 tons of sugarcane was ground; 1,154,452 tons of sugar was produced; 74,497,489 gallons of molasses was produced.

Clayton E. Hutcheson, county extension director, stated that compared to the farm situation in the midwest, Palm Beach County could be considered in good health, but could stand some improvement.

"We hope we won't get another freeze or, there could be an improvement on the way the Mexican fruit and vegetable marketing situation is being handled," clarified Fred Boss, Palm Beach County agricultural extension agent.

"It would also help if there would be a cold spell in Mexico or California, which would make our prices go up."

Play scheduled for Dolly Hand

BELLE GLADE--Glades residents have an opportunity to go back in time when the Hippodrome State Theatre comes to Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center Thursday, November 14.

"The Middle Ages," a fast moving play created by Gregory Hauch, takes place in the trophy room of an exclusive men's club from 1946 through 1976 in a century of changing 30 years of culture; from the carefree post-war period to the decade of the 1970's.

The action of the play revolves around two relationships of love, love between a man and woman and love between a father and a son.

Each pair is bound to the stately confines of the club and no matter how they try to break free from its history and traditions, they cannot.

The club is somehow the symbolic heart of this family.

"The Middle Ages" will be at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center Thursday, November 14, at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10.

Hello, I'm Liz Goodbread

I'm the head bookkeeper at the Bank of Pahokee where my staff of five and I are responsible for your bank statements and canceled checks.

When I'm not at the bank, I enjoy many healthful outdoor activities, especially those I can share with my husband, Ed, and our two children, Justin, 3, and Cary, 9. I enjoy water sports including swimming and snorkel diving; I like biking and even do some weight lifting for fun and exercise. Ed is a deputy sheriff stationed at the Glades Courthouse and we make our home in Belle Glade where we are members of the Alliance Church.

I came to the bank seven years ago, shortly after moving to the area from my hometown of Morehead City, N.C. I have had an opportunity to work in many areas of the bank before I was recently promoted to my present position.
